Dre Lucie Paradis

Dre Lucie Paradis, my Breed is the Pembroke Welsh Corgi since 1978 under Joska kennel perm reg. I graduated from veterinarian school in Montreal in 1977, I am semi retired and still practice in Quebec city in small animal practice, at Clinique Maguire Médecine Vétérinaire, which I just sold to my ex partner Marie-Christine Lefrançois, DMV. The Clinic specialize in reproduction, we have a 60% dogs 40% cats practice.

I owned my first Corgi in 1978 from Polruan kennel (Rosalie Harvie), who was my mentor in the breed. I have bred many canadian and american champions, have done obedience, rally and recently in agility. I am not breeding as much these last years, but still own 6 Corgis. I coown also 3 whippets with Forgetmenot kennel (Joanne Boudreault). I also have bred 2 litters in the past of English Cocker Spaniel.

I began judging in 2000, and I am All Breed since 2017. I love judging, travelling, meeting new friends, and seeing some very nice dogs all over the world. It gives me faith in purebred breeding. My husband Sylvain Deschamps loves to show our dogs. He is working as an event manager in a foundation Cité-Joie, wich provides camps for handicap people. I have a son 41 years old, Samuel, an ingeneer, and 2 beautiful granddaughters 12 & 14 years old, Alicia & Olivia. My hobby is riding, in the hunter ring, and I am still showing here in our province, and in winter in Florida. So horses and dogs are my passion.

I have been in the past on the Discipline Committee, and also on the Appeal Committee. I am now member of the Registration committee at CKC. I am very happy to have been invited to judge at your shows.
